Acting Inspector General of Police (IGP) David Asante-Apeatu effected his second changes in the service since he took over the helm of affairs.

In the latest shake-up, Ashanti Regional Police Commander COP Nathan Kofi Boakye has been moved to the National Headquarters to head the Research and Planning Department.

The substantive director general of Research and Planning COP Rose Bio Atinga is heading to the technical department as director general.

Former director general in charge of Technical, COP Frank Adu Poku is now moving to the services department as Director General.
